Narcotics Intelligence: []

- Paul now has turned his attention to supporting the Narcotics Follow-Up Study that is being orchestrated by George. One of his first tasks--beyond attempting to obtain a working knowledge of the topic--was to review the status of those recommendations in the CIPC Narcotics Study dealing with DCID 1/2 priorities. You will recall that the CIPC Narcotics Working Group had proposed that consideration be given to assigning one priority for narcotics worldwide.
- On 6 May, George and Paul visited the "intelligence element at the Coast Guard Headquarters here in Washington and toured the Intelligence Coordination Center.
- On 30 April, the Narcotics Working Group met to review the drafting procedures and responsibilities for the follow-up report to the CIPC Narcotics Study. More than 20 representatives of concerned agencies were present, including the NIO and A/NIO for Narcotics. The discussion centered on the terms of reference for the report, and the general themes which the paper should address. The working group was informed that we would like to complete a draft of the report before the end of the month, and that the quicker written responses can be forthcoming the better.
- A copy of the CIPC Narcotics Study has been provided to the Office of Development and Engineering (ODE) in the DDS&T for background and briefing purposes. As you know, ODE has been working very closely with us in their development of technical equipment to identify and locate drug producing factories.
